workers in five languages to avoid violence and they have promised to go to the Governor to demand their rights. He has already promised to prevent further outbreaks of a public way if he has the power to do so.

Harold police at the station adding on the side of the mill property were added to the force guarding the plant. These forces include national guard soldiers, state police, local policemen, deputy sheriffs and volunteers.

In their protest against the shooting and barring of a public way the strikers are backed by Mayor Edward L. Loring, of Woonsocket, who, when he was in office, was wounded, and by John J. Loring, mayor of St. James Church.

"According to the law, the troops are not right to shoot at the people," said Father Leonard. "The right of Manville is a fundamental right. It is terrible."

Mayor Loring called his decision. He said the police had no right to shoot at the strikers, but he had no right to let the strikers assert his power was hit by a bullet half a mile from the mill.

The crowd gathered again today, however in an ugly mood. They found the bridge barred with barbed wire, with just enough space for the strikers to pass through provided their drivers could make the militia men they were not connected with the strikers.

On the "No Man's Land" at the mill, the strikers were being held. They have orders not to shoot, but lines of men were held in readiness as a means of repelling attacks.

A mass meeting of the 1,700 strikers was held at the mill today to discuss ways and means of carrying on the strike, now in its fifteenth day.

Condemnation of violence by Mayor Loring, of Woonsocket, and Rev. Edward Loring, both of whom were in the crowd, was met by a shouting mob of strikers, checked by the police. The strikers were held in readiness as a means of repelling attacks.

Use of riot guns and tear gas by the State Troopers, and the fact that the strikers were not connected with the strikers, was met by a shouting mob of strikers, checked by the police. The strikers were held in readiness as a means of repelling attacks.

Fourteen persons, including strikers and troopers and two innocent bystanders, were injured in the riot. When the riot was over the strikers were held in readiness as a means of repelling attacks.

Gov. Louis A. Pothier was called out of bed when the strikers got beyond the control of the 14 deputy sheriffs and 11 State Troopers assigned to guard the mill.

Among the most seriously injured was Edward Loring, son of the Mayor, who was shot in the head. He was taken to the St. James Hospital, where he is now lying. He is expected to recover.

Other strikers who were injured were John J. Loring, son of the Mayor, who was shot in the head. He was taken to the St. James Hospital, where he is now lying. He is expected to recover.

'Cease Firing on the Strike Pie,' Says Reporter

Manville, R. I., Sept. 1.—"Strike pie" is the latest delicacy in a restaurant in the "war zone" here, although it hasn't lasted that way for the moment.

A Boston Evening American reporter, relaxing from a hectic night covering the shooting riot at the Manville-Jenness plant, dropped in for blueberry pie and coffee. With the first bite his teeth descended on something smooth, hard and round.

It was a piece of shot from a shotgun shell.

"Cease firing on the strike pie," said the reporter.

And Arthur Tadopoulos of Battery Street, North End, were held in $2,000 cash and Angelo Bartella of Hanover street was held in $1,000. Physicians testified that the girl was cruelly injured.

NEAR RIOT OVER PONZI'S WIFE

said Mrs. Ponzi had not notified him or his wife that she was making and because she had been spirited aboard ship and barricaded in her stateroom, came rushing up to the pier a short time before sailing.

His wife had had a breakdown because of the Ponzi treatment of her after she had gone Ponzi's bond and everything, and Malagutti wanted to have a heart-to-heart talk with Mrs. Ponzi.

It had been declared that Mrs. Ponzi was to board the boat in New York on her journey to Italy and for Ponzi, but she was rushed aboard at Boston, taking even the watchful customs men by surprise.

"If it Ponzi's last trump card, the Malagutti shrieked when he learned the could not be seen. "But if he tries to leave the country, too, he will leave dead," I'll see to that. He has been given to us. He's a notorious crook and grifter. I've got to see to it that he stays in the United States."

And it was some time after the boat sailed before he was quieted.

Mrs. Harry Malagutti of Cambridge, sister of Mrs. Ponzi, was among those accompanying her to the boat.

Some of the 175 passengers sailing from Boston were Archbishop Coadjutor of Naples, who came over to attend the Eucharistic Congress; Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Emerson, the former an automobile man in Lowell and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Quinn of Boston. He is a lawyer and is reputed "Pasciotti" here in the Hub.

BEAT, BOOED; 2 GIRLS ARE ARRESTED

A hectic automobile ride, whirling in the first September storm of the season, with an attractive young woman appropriately garbed for the occasion, ended today with one man robbed and beaten and two girls and a man under arrest.

Michael Opatian, a coat maker, of No. 15 Dillingham street, South End, was the victim, sustaining numerous bruises and abrasions, and loss of $10 in money, a gold watch and chain and three small valuables, valued at $25.

Those under arrest are Geraldine Hayes, 27, and Gladys Cunningham, 25, both giving their address as Columbus avenue, and Herbert B. Carter, 25, driver, of Boylston street, Brookline.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY.

The trio were arraigned in Brookline court, where Carter was held in $7,000 until tomorrow, and the two young women were held in $5,000 for the Grand Jury.

Carter, Opatian and the girls all told conflicting stories, but the coat maker's carried the most weight with Judge Parker.

He said that early last evening he said a call on Miss Hayes. On the way home Opatian said he was overtaken by an automobile containing two men, with Miss Opatian and alibi. They were in a bathhouse and alibi. They were in a bathhouse and alibi. They were in a bathhouse and alibi.

A text was charged and the girls were released. They were in a bathhouse and alibi. They were in a bathhouse and alibi. They were in a bathhouse and alibi.

The coat maker said the car went on the street and again stopped where the driver demanded that Opatian pay him. He said he agreed to do so if the driver would take him home, whereupon he was set on and beaten into unconsciousness.

DEE ENDS EVELYN AS "WRONGED"

Harry Thaw's Own Story. "The Traitor," Blames White for All of His Troubles

New York, Sept. 1 (Universal).—Harry K. Thaw's book, "The Traitor," which appeared today, bristles with hate for Stanford White as the source of all his misfortunes and those of Evelyn Nesbit.

This hatred begins to function with his marriage proposal to Evelyn in Paris, at which time she refused him, "for his own good," and confessed that she had been betrayed by White.

Thaw writes: "Hour after hour she unfolded what had befallen her. Never her own villain, unless she had refused point blank her mother's order to obey a man."

SHE NEVER KNEW.

"Evelyn supposed her mother, too, thought he was generous and kind, and she never knew until after the failure of Jerome."

It was in that the mother pretended only, after she had learned from Evelyn by a woman messenger? We cannot tell. I think she was unsuspecting at this time.

"Groping in darkness, there was no, breaking each relation and later on, for days and days afterwards, and for months after that."

"White's true character was not well known—did not my friends take supper at his lovely tower? And his viciousness seemed incredible to those who knew of him only as a great architect and a man of admirable manner."

"But it may be a little easier for you to grasp what I learned when you read a letter of his, written not at all in the character of an architect, for this proves how mild and pleasant was his disposition to be sent to jail. It is in Chapter XXVII, but not to be read yet."

"He was a ravisher. He boasted of having taken advantage of his girls."

POOR BY O'BRIEN DEFIED

Attorney Damon E. Hall Flatly Rejects the Request to See Warren Books

District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien found himself "stymied" on one angle of his alleged city graft investigation today.

Edwin C. Price, the prosecutor's accountant, because the attorney center of the misdeeds, and it was hinted to the district attorney that he was playing politics.

The public inquiring came from Damon E. Hall of Hartford, Jones & Hall, counsel for Warren Bros. Co., whose books O'Brien seeks for auditing.

In seeking the audit the Suffolk prosecutor alleges influential business and political connections. "I have been used in large part to say nothing to political allies or superiors of officials of the city of Boston."

But the district attorney's request that Price be allowed to audit the contractors' books to compare costs and profits and the like for grafting in Boston and other cities, met with flat refusal.

It was revealed today that Attorney Hall has written the district attorney, giving as reason for the refusal:

"Because (Price) is a recognized trustee of your office and the bar at large know that, as such, he is not impartial."

"Of course we realize," wrote the lawyer, in slightly ironical tone, "as does the public at large, that we are in the midst of an excellent primary campaign; that reckless charges are being made upon the one side and the other; that the success or failure of various investigations which are now under way may have an important bearing upon the result of these primaries and upon the ensuing election."

With the flat refusal to turn over the books blocking him on the paving angle of the investigation, the district attorney is faced with the necessity of subpoenaing the books, if he cares to take such a drastic step which is declared to be mere ruin.

In his reply to Attorney Hall's letter of refusal, the district attorney declared that "the attitude of Warren Bros. Company in this case, it seems to me, shows a disposition to conceal facts which, if disclosed, would be of vital importance to the inquiry which I am now making."

In order to obtain this information the services of an accountant are of course essential. Following a practice in the district attorney's office for many years I employed Mr. Price to make that audit. Mr. Price, who has made examinations such as this for this office for some years, is recognized nationally as a capable and experienced accountant."

SEPTEMBER AND OYSTERS R IN ONCE MORE

NAVY 'AIR SUB' IS SUCCESS

A "submarine airplane," first in the history of naval and flying craft, has been perfected by the United States Navy and is being tested with successful results at the submarine base at New London, Ct.

The new invention is really two crafts in one, and is known as the S-1. A "pocket plane," powered with a three-cylinder motor, is carried in a steel tube, five feet in diameter, mounted on the submarine. When the airplane is in the tube, the wings are collapsed and the pontoons removed.

Within nine minutes after the submarine comes to the surface, the plane can take off.

When the plane is assembled, the stern of the submarine is submerged and then the plane is allowed to float.

Because of the possibilities of the new invention in warfare, the tests are being watched with interest.

ATTORNEY SULLIVAN $5000 PARKERS FLEE PAY HELD UP NEW POLICE

Pay of $5,000 to R. Mark Sullivan, acting as special counsel for the city in the fight against the rate increases allowed the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company, was held up today by the Finance Commission.

The commission notified Corporation Counsel Frank E. Deland that, while not dissatisfied with the work of Mr. Sullivan, it wanted to know just what he was doing. It was also stated that Sullivan was apparently being paid on the basis of a previous contract made by Mayor Curley which had been cancelled.

Attorney Sullivan, apprised of the commission's action, said he was surprised but would not let it delay his proceedings to stop "the telephone company's raid on the pocketbooks of the public."

He sacrificed $5,000 by agreeing to a revision of his contract with the city under which he was to have received $15,000. When Mayor Nichols took office and accused Sullivan's resignation as corporation counsel, he retained his services in the telephone rate fight, but effected a new contract calling for $5,000 last May and $5,000 before December 1.

AIR LINES SET
3 MILLION-MILE
GOAL FOR YEAR

Commercial Aviators Now
Vying Sharply With Railroads for Passengers

Washington, Sept. 1 (A.P.)—As the forerunner of an intricate system of transcontinental air lines, vying with railroads for passengers, American aviation has set a goal of 3,000,000 commercial flying miles this year. It was learned today at the Department of Commerce.

While the government extends every possible aid, private air corporations hope to carry the United States into the world leadership of commercial aviation before 1927. On last year's records, America ranked second only to France, but with Germany and Great Britain pressing her closely.

Reports are pouring into the aviation division of the Department of Commerce, it was stated, showing a remarkable growth of commercial aviation in this country during the last seven months. The Postoffice Department has helped this by awarding contracts for air mail deliveries wherever possible.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON SOCIETY
Myopia Hunt Show on Labor Day to Be
Mecca of Horse Loving Society

FIRST BUGLE FOR THE
opening class at Myopia Hunt Club, Horse Show, on Monday sounds at 10 in the morning, and thereafter, until the sun is sinking in the West, Myopians on their well known mounts, will be thrilling a large gathering at the most popular of informal horse shows.

MORNING HOURS are devoted to the younger riders, and they, all sizes and ages from the small youngsters up to the near-debutante, near-college sets, prance through their paces with all the ease and precision of veteran riders.

YOUTHFUL SORTWELLS, following the way of their elders, are favorite in general children's classes. Alvin F. Sortwell, their father, appears frequently in the tour contests; their mother is a finished equestrian, and the girls are perfectly at home in the saddle.

THE AUGUSTUS F. GOODWIN string is due to show at Myopia. These thoroughbreds are all in the "A" class, so to speak, each having a name commencing with the letter "A". Miss Betty Bartlett, Mrs. Goodwin's daughter, will ride the hand-some "Antec."

GOODWIN MOUNTS also appear in the hunt team class, appearing under the whip of the colors, of every important North Shore stable may be seen, for the Appleton, the Mandella, Ayres, Tucker, Williams are making a dash for the hunt in that famous hunting region.

MESSRS. BAYARD TUCKER, MAX, John R. Bayard, Fredrick J. Alvin, Alvin F. Sortwell and others of the horse set are entering the show details, getting out the entry list and generally making things run smoothly.

Jack Pickford Will Star in Boy Role

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS,
Motion Picture Editor of Universal Service.
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 1.—Jack Pickford's admirers who recognize in him a talented young actor, are delighted that he is to play the boy in "An American Tragedy." Of all the prospective pictures none has contained a character of more interest than Clyde Griffiths in Theodore Dreiser's absorbing novel.

The conversation for the past two months has revolved around the choice of a star and a director that would not only meet with Dreiser's approval but would please the exacting American public as well.

It was told by one of the important members of the Famous Players-Lasky organization that Ernst Lubitsch undoubtedly will direct "An American Tragedy." It was the present choice of Barbra and Esther Ralston is mentioned at Soudra, the two women who bring about the tragedy which ends in the boy's unhappy finish.

ONE SWALLOW DOES NOT make a Summer, but one good picture certainly makes a star. Billie Dove who has been cast in more gag-gag roles than any actress in the screen was given a chance to show her ability in "The Marriage Clause."

She proved that she was not only lovely but that she has talent. The result is offers from the largest companies and Miss Dove who is making her decision this week will undoubtedly go with Associated First National.

HARRY D'ARRAST is leaving for Paris next Friday on a special assignment from Famous Players-Lasky. Mr. D'Arrast who will direct Gilda Gray in "Glorifying the American Girl" this fall had a little idle time on his hands, and will make "Lovers for Whimsy" his next picture.

It was first planned for Mr. D'Arrast to direct Elmer Glyn's picture, "It," and Eric Von Stroheim was to bring "Glorifying the American Girl" to the screen. But the last word is that Von Stroheim will do something else and Harry will glorify the American girl.

OUR WELL KNOWN MALE STARS can have no vanity. Richard Barthelmess is appearing in a full grown beard, worn in the interest of art.

Monte Blue is wearing the same hirsute adornment, his whiskers being a part of the props in "Across the Pacific." The picture having been finished, Monte is only waiting for retakes to shave.

He told me that his next picture had been changed and instead of "Bitter Apple" he will do "In Wolf's Clothing" as an original story by Arthur Somers Roche.

Thomas Santschi who is playing in "The Toll of the Desert" is also wearing a beard.

M'NIDER IS TO READ AND FLY

Dayton, O., Sept. 1 (A.P.)—With an open book in his lap, Harold MacNider, Acting Secretary of War, took off today from McCook Field for an observation plane with Muskogee, Okla., as the first day's objective.

Secretary MacNider is on an air voyage which will take him to several of the principal army posts and air fields in the West.

As his 15th page was being shown in the cockpit, Secretary MacNider said: "Hold on a minute, there, I want you two books out of my airplane trip," he explained. "There's nothing else to do, and the conditions are ideal." The two books he took from under his wings were "The War of Wollington" and "The Memoirs of W. T. Sherman."

As he climbed into the cockpit, Secretary MacNider grinned and showed "Just a landlubber, bumbling a ride."

REVEALS OBITUARY
WORD STAY WOULDN'T SAY

London, Sept. 1 (A.P.)—May Moore Pupper, an English actress, has won the right to refrain from uttering a naughty word in a new revue put on at the Savoy Hotel. Her victory was at the expense of 500,000 francs, which has been entirely changed to omit the word. For the picture, she had the subject's initials, "You may go wherever you like," which the actress said on the closing night, has been interpreted.

HURFOLK UNDER FIRE OF BRUSSES

How American torpedoes covered the floors of hotels while others, more daring, viewed the spectacle from the roof, during the bombardment of Damascus early in August for the French, was described today by Harry Patterson Hale, his wife and son, of No. 11 Salisbury road, Brookline, eye-witnesses to the fight.

The bombardment, Mr. Hale said, was prompted by the brutal execution of two French aviators who, on the day previous, had fallen into the hands of a band of Druzes.

The Hale family reached home early today from a thirty-day Mediterranean cruise.

"We got a taste of what the boys underwent in the World War," Mr. Hale said, in relating his experience.

"No one was allowed on the streets after 8 p.m. On the night of August 2, we were started by the booming of heavy guns. Arabs in the hotel became panic-stricken and, of course, that frightened the women. The lights suddenly went out, leaving us in total darkness."

"We added to the disorder, noting began. Many Arabs who were present during the day, turned up at night and the French could not find them. Kidnaping children of wealthy natives was common. They were always held for high ransom."

"The situation was so bad that Americans felt unsafe. Even the officers resorted to hotels in which they were quartered."

OUT FOR CLAM EATING TITLE

Blushing for the two North Attleboro men who committed a crime to devour the title of champion clam eater, Patrolman John Catalano of Revere will try tomorrow to bring the championship back to man.

In a grill on the North Shore the policeman, with official witnesses present, will attack steamed clams by the peck. He will pay for what he eats and the bill is likely to be a heavy one.

Being in an act as well as an accomplishment with Patrolman Catalano, he almost had undisputed title to the championship in the meadow field.

Anyone on watch to put away more than two pecks and that is the amount that enabled a Rhode Island woman to get away with the championship.

SEE PAROLE OF LOEB, LEOPOLD

Chicago, Sept. 1 (A.P.)—Attention was directed again today at Chicago's most sensational criminal case when it became known existing statute might be construed as permitting the parole of Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb when they had served eleven years and three months.

The legal twist under which the "thrill" slayers of Bobby Franks might thus be freed in 1935 was brought to the attention of State's Attorney Robert H. Crown by Illinois C. C. Cavanaugh, supervisor of inmates.

The Chicago slayers were sentenced by Judge John H. Cawley to serve thirty-nine years for kidnapping Franks and were given life terms for murdering the youth, but Mr. Cavanaugh said the statute failed to specify whether the sentence should run concurrently or consecutively.

"Under the law," he explained, "such sentences are concurrent in law the judge specifies they should run consecutively."

SAILOR SLAIN, ALL WITNESSES SAIL AWAY

London, Sept. 1 (A.P.)—Emile Parahon, an American negro sailor, died in a hospital at Gravesend from a wound received in a dance hall.

It is alleged that Parahon's assailant, a blacksmith, is under arrest on board the United States torpedo boat destroyer Sharky, which sailed for San Sebastian, Spain, last night.

More all witnesses of the shooting are members of the Sharky crew, there will be no witnesses at the coroner's inquest.

It is generally understood that an agreement has been reached by which the alleged assailant of Parahon will be tried by United States authorities.

OIL FIND EXCITES WEST BRIMFIELD

West Brimfield, Sept. 1.—Great excitement reigned in this little hamlet today over what is believed to be the discovery of oil three miles east of Palmer on the Boston road.

The city substance was found by Boston & Albany railroad workers digging for the installation of a pump. Samples were sent to the Worcester office of the railroad for analysis.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS IN NEW NASH MODELS

NEW ADVANCED SIX NASH SEDAN
Like all Nash enclosed models, now on display at C. P. Rockwell, Inc., the sedan is of genuine wood frame construction, typical of the finest European and American models. The body is swung low to the road on a full 121-inch wheel base.

BALCRANK GOOD FOR TRUCKS

Valvecrank bumpers are the only passenger car protection rated by the insurance underwriters as sufficiently strong for a sedan truck, according to Frank Murray, general manager of the Post & Lester Company, New England distributor. "They are accepted by insurance," said Mr. Murray, "as the proper protecting equipment for five cars. The round bar is finished in the same color as the car, or is inlaid 'valvecrank' black. 'Valvecrank' does not bump—it absorbs the shock. The sturdy, rigid bar is supported by tempered steel springs with six inches of shock absorbing room. Exclusive Balcrank fitting principle brings the car spring into action."

"The new five passenger sedan is finished in the several additional attractiveness with a fine gold stripe of custom-built quality. A reduction in steering wheel leverage, together with the use of ball-bearings in the steering mechanism serve to ease turning. This is another advanced Six innovation."

Two entirely new models are included in the several additions to the Buick line for 1927.

Model 48 is a de luxe five passenger coupe on the 123 inch wheelbase chassis. A wide seat is finished in the rear is in contrast to the ordinary design.

The long wheelbase of this model, combined with careful body design, makes the car very roomy and comfortable for five people.

Model 49 is a two passenger coupe with a wide seat, on the 114 1/2 inch wheelbase chassis. It is finished in special colors and has natural wood wheels. It carries the new Buick radiator cap emblem, and is finished exceptionally well throughout.

The other new model, among the new additions are designed to suit the shifting fancy of the market, is model 50, a two passenger coupe with a dicker seat, on the 114 1/2 inch wheelbase chassis. It is finished in special colors and has natural wood wheels. It carries the new Buick radiator cap emblem, and is finished exceptionally well throughout.

With the near approach of the thirtieth anniversary of the entry of Marcus Loew in the theatrical field, great preparations are being made all over the country for a fitting celebration of the event.

Glancing through theatrical history, there is no parallel to the rapid rise of Marcus Loew.

Beginning in a humble way with a small store converted into a "theater," Mr. Loew rose in importance to a comparatively short time. Today he is one of the greats of the business, with a chain of theatres extending from coast to coast and from the Gulf to the Canadian border.

Now, on the eve of the twentieth anniversary of his entrance into a new scale of "Loew" prices at both the Orpheum and the State—a generous cut in the cost of good seats and smart vaudeville.

TWO NEW DODGE TRUCK TYPES

Two new types of trucks of two-ton capacity have been added to the line of commercial cars being sold by Dodge Brothers dealers. The new chassis will be equipped with a variety of bodies suited to nearly every requirement.

Two lengths of chassis are made. The shorter, for one-ton bodies, has a wheel base of 127 inches, and the longer, which is for twelve-ton bodies, has a wheel base of 162 inches.

Both chassis are equipped with semi-automatic steering with either split or dual rear optional. The power steel frame rails for both chassis are seven inches deep. Power springs on both chassis are leafless, while the brakes have dual wheel and have nine inches, while the rear springs are fifty-two inches long. These chassis will have what is known as the "Dodge" rear axle assembly, a novel device for final drive with a reduction of 23 to 1. Both axles and hand brakes are of an improved self-aligning type operating in heavy power steel drums at the rear hubs. The brakes are so connected that the pedal operates all four hubs, while the brake lever actuates only two. This feature, it is said, insures long life and even wear of the brake facings.

The new and larger truck embodying the same well-tried constructional features found in Dodge Brothers one-ton and two-ton and a half trucks," said C. S. Hendrix, Boston Dodge Brothers dealer. "This is a long felt need for an equally sturdy unit capable of handling heavier loads."

WINTER FRONT SAVES MOTORS

"Don't give the cold a chance at your motor," is the advice to motorists of H. D. Green, general manager of the W. J. Connell Company, New England distributors of Pines Waterfront automatic radiators.

"At sixty degrees Fahrenheit," says Mr. Green, "your motor needs Winterfront protection. That's why the cold starts its work of destruction. Makers of many lines provide Winterfront radiator protection the year round. The first 'choke' occurring is when damage starts.

"With your car equipped with Winterfront protection, the 'warm up' period is cut to seconds. You then form the habit of using the 'choke' as it should be used for starting only. Your motor is kept always at the point of highest operating efficiency. You experience a new degree of gasoline economy, in winter months."

THE GREATEST TEACHER

Experience is by far the greatest teacher. Nothing can take its place. Things worth while are invariably the result of years of labor and experiment—by either individuals or organizations.

The modern skyscraper has reached its present stage through the years of experience of architects and builders. The compound locomotives of 1926 are far more powerful and effective than the railroad engines of some years ago. Experience taught the builders how to improve them to cope successfully with today's demands.

In the motor car a far more striking illustration is shown in a comparison of the cars of a few years ago with those of the present. Experience again is mainly responsible for the improvements.

Because of the 26 years of specialized effort which have been devoted to the manufacture of motors, the Continental organization of 8100 trained workers has the invaluable experience which only the years can give.

As a result every Continental Motor, whether for automobile, bus, truck, aeroplane, industrial, or marine use, is designed for the purpose intended and will give the greatest degree of economical performance and satisfactory service.

A Story of College Life; a Fast and Furious Romance

"When you learn the truth, I want you to remember that I told you once, my dear," said Yvonne to Jock.

Jock Hamill, at a dance with Molly, who is in love with him, becomes cool. He is tired of her. She's too easy to kiss, he thinks. Molly goes home. Jock meets Yvonne Mountford. He falls in love with her at sight. Most beautiful girl he ever saw, is his verdict.

Jock is charmed when Yvonne refuses him a kiss. She gives him her address.

Mrs. Hamill, wise woman, picks from Jock his meeting with Yvonne. Jock is entertained by Yvonne. Jock returns to college.

Jock, at lunch with Yvonne, sees an imposing looking business man seat himself at the next table. Yvonne leaves him and talks with the man for some time. She makes no explanation when she returns.

Brad Hathaway asks Jock to take Eunice, his wife, to the football game. He doesn't like to, but agrees.

PAUL HARRISON FOR BOYCOTT OF PARIS

CHANGE HIS VIEW ON COURT

Senator Wants U. S. to Stay Out: Hits Debt-Canceling as "Betrayal"

By H. H. STANSBURY

Universal Service Correspondent.

Paris, Aug. 31.—Senator Paul Harrison of Mississippi, member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the Finance Committee, ended his European trip today with a suggestion that American passports for France be suspended until the campaign for the cancellation of war debts is dropped.

The senator sailed on the Leviathan after a month in England, France, Italy and Switzerland. Although an original Wilson pro-league Democrat who voted in the last session of Congress to enter the World Court, Harrison now advocates complete shutoffs at least until sound economic policies are adopted abroad, including a reasonable degree of disarmament.

WORLD STOP TRAVEL.

He is convinced after a visit to Geneva that some of the major powers are willing to discuss disarmament sincerely and believes the United States had best drop the subject. Reminded of his recent position regarding the World Court, the Mississippi merely answered with a shrug of his shoulders and a despairing gesture, as much as to say: "What the hell!"

Regarding France he declared: "American tourists who subscribed to our war loans are now spending from $200,000,000 to $300,000,000 annually in France. If my personal feelings were controlling the matter I would suspend Japan's passport to France until the attitude toward Americans and the war debts changes."

IN BETRAYAL OF U. S.

"I am satisfied such a course would bring a quick change," he requested to offer a reply to the recent statement of former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, Senator Harrison said.

The suggestion to cancel the foreign debts is a suggestion for the grooves of the American taxpayer. The few who were controlling the matter I would suspend Japan's passport to France until the attitude toward Americans and the war debts changes."

"Recent unfortunate incidents in France and ungracious expressions of some of her statesmen minimizing the part the United States played in the war, and the views on cancellation voiced by three or four Americans, makes cancellation an issue in the coming November elections."

"No people during or since the war have paid heavier taxes than the United States."

EVERYTHING TAXED.

"We imposed taxes on all classes and on all industries unexampled and without delay, and only by that means have we been able to maintain our financial stability and gradually reduce both our war and foreign debts."

"We desire to help Europe in general by just way and we have done this in spite of the many and the unpopularity hurled at the United States."

KATHARINE BRUSA

SECOND SECTION

WIFE OF 2. DAUGHTER IN FIGHT FOR MILLION

Legal conflict today threatens over the share of the Paine fortune that came to the late Charles Jackson Paine, member of the noted and wealthy Boston family. Mr. Paine was a lineal descendant of the signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Although Mr. Paine died nearly a month ago at Vancouver, B.C., while on a vacation, no will has been found. There has been no administrator appointed nor any guardians named for his two minor sons.

The conflict, it is said, is brewing between Mr. Paine's daughter by his divorced wife, and his second wife.

The daughter is Miss James O. Parker, and the second wife is Mrs. Winifred Ford Paine. The second Mrs. Paine is now occupying the Paine home on Old Road, Weston, and is reported to be on friendly terms with the Paine family in Boston. Mr. Paine's estate is said to be much more than $1,000,000.

Mr. Paine's first wife, now Mrs. Guy W. Cox, wife of the brother of the former Governor, obtained a decree from Mr. Paine on the grounds of cruelty and abusive treatment on March 18 last.

Under the terms the first Mrs. Paine was permitted to remain after six months, but Mr. Paine was prohibited from marrying before two years. Mrs. Paine was married to Mr. Cox seven months after her divorce, and three days later, much shorter than the period allowed in Massachusetts, Mr. Paine married his second wife in Hollis, N. H.

Occupancy of the Paine home, owned by the second Mrs. Paine, is disputed by her step-daughter, Mrs. Johnson and her husband moved into the estate on the death of her father, but the second Mrs. Paine remained there also, insisting she was the only legal wife. After four days the Johnsons moved out again.

Mrs. Johnson is reported to be vigorously insistent that the estate shall be divided equally among her self and two brothers, Charles Jackson Paine, Jr., 35, and Roger Lee Paine, 16.

The second Mrs. Paine, it is said, is determined to fight for recognition as legal widow and one third of the estate.

Cards Take Lead; Yankees Slump

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (I.N.S.)—Sitting on top of the world as a result of two victories over the Pittsburgh Pirates while the Cincinnati Reds were losing to the fast-traveling Chicago Cubs, the St. Louis Cardinals again were leading the National League race today. They topped the Reds by three percentage points, the Pirates having tumbled from first to third in a single day. The Pirates were one point behind the Reds. The Cubs, in fourth place, were five games behind the leaders.

The defeat of the New York Yankees by the Athletics, while the Cleveland Indians were scoring a sensational twelveinning victory over St. Louis, tightened up the American League race. The Yankees were 5 1/2 games behind the Indians this morning. This might be considered an almost unmountable lead at this stage if it wasn't for the fact that the Yankees still have more than a dozen games to play with the Indians and Athletics.

However, by breaking even in their remaining 26 games, the Yanks would force the Indians to win 19 out of 26 to capture the flag.
